

ENVOY DENOUNCED BULGARS, IS CHARGE

The part Consul General Murphy at Sofia played in recent Bulgarian developments came under scrutiny today to officials in Washington, following quotation of alleged remarks by Mr. Murphy, issued through the Greek legation.

Cable advices to the Greek legation told of Mr. Murphy going to Saloniki and telling the allied commander there that the Bulgars ought to be tamed, that they had committed outrages against him and that he had been starving.

In this connection it was recalled that Mr. Murphy was ordered by the State Department to return to his post. The State Department said that it knew nothing of Mr. Murphy's alleged statements. All it professed to know was that Mr. Murphy had gone to Saloniki, sending a message here of his departure. When this became known here, Secretary Lansing immediately ordered him to return.

Communication Manager.

It was said at the department that as far as known Mr. Murphy's relations as charge d'affaires at Sofia had been amicable. But it was pointed out that communication with him had been severed.

The official cable to the Greek legation stated that Mr. Murphy "declared to the general commander-in-chief of the allied armies that it is absolutely necessary that the Bulgars should be tamed. He has suffered several outrages from Bulgarians after starting for three months."

That Mr. Murphy was acting on his own initiative it seems apparent. The upshot of the matter is likely to be that with Bulgaria out of the war, Mr. Murphy would be transferred to another post, for evidently relations between him and the Bulgar authorities are not such as to permit continuing him there.

AL K. HALL TRAINS BABY AS SOLDIER

Al K. Hall, of the featured team of Hall and Barry, comedians with "The Maids of America," at the Gaiety Theatre this week, has been rejected so often by the military he shudders whenever he passes a recruiting office or an examining station.

An intensive course of athletic exercise last summer failed to enable Hall to realize his military ambition, but he had one consolation for all the hard work. Hall confided today. It is that Al K. Hall, Jr., he says, is today the best drilled four-year-old in the length and breadth of Brooklyn's Thirtieth ward.

Al K. and Al K. Jr., got out in the back yard of their Brooklyn home early every morning last summer and while the senior male star of the family went through regular army setting-up exercises, the junior member did his best to follow parental example.

Hall said he and the exercise stunt to help put him in shape for service, but his last hopes went skyward when the news was gently slipped to him from his local board before leaving home this season that he would never make a soldier.

The Gaiety star has been on the stage since he was fourteen. He was in vaudeville many years and later a team worker with Leon Errol and Don Barclay.

Hall may start soon with a show all his own.

D. C. VETERAN OF 2 WARS WOUNDED

John Callahan, fifty years of age, a private in the United States Engineers for thirty years, and a veteran of the Spanish-American war, has been wounded severely in action in France. The casualty list today reads, "Wounded severely in action, Private John Callahan, home address, United States Engineers, Washington, D. C. Callahan was well known in Washington, having been stationed at the Washington Barracks here for nearly twenty years. His closest friend during that time was the adjutant of the No. 2 Camp, H. L. Leslie, of 2923 Twelfth street northeast, who served through the Cuban campaigns with him. Mr. Leslie received an unofficial report that Callahan had been killed in France early in July. This report received no confirmation from the War Department.

Leslie, who is given as Callahan's next of kin, said today that Callahan had no relatives that he knew of, as the veteran soldier had never spoken of any. According to Leslie, Callahan came to this country from Ireland thirty years ago and enlisted in the army and has never known any other home since.

FOE FEARS AIR RAIDS

LONDON, Oct. 2.—From indisputable channels word comes almost daily of the increasing effect of the allied air raids upon the German people. The Cologne Gazette acknowledges the raids are having the effect on the German people of the German which the entire allies intended. It also speaks of how the pessimism of the bombed districts is spreading through the empire.

British air power is constantly increasing and the air ministry is taking every possible step to see the fliers are not "set back" in their work. While much is being done, the British air losses are comparably light, according to the air chiefs.
